

Medium Combustion Plant Directive TIMELINE

Note: *Details apply to England - check with devolved administrations for any local variations. In all cases, the first measurements shall be carried out within four months of the grant of a permit to, or registration of, the plant, or of the date of the start of the operation, whichever is the latest.